

OFFICE OF STATE EXAMINER
MUNICIPAL FIRE AND POLICE CIVIL SERVICE

POLICE SERGEANT STUDY GUIDE

This examination for POLICE SERGEANT was developed following a two-year study that included extensive input from Sergeants statewide through interviews, questionnaires, and panels. The actual test items have been reviewed by incumbent Sergeants and training officials statewide for correctness of material and appropriateness at the level of Sergeant. Any candidate achieving a score of 75 percent or greater shall have his or her name placed upon an eligibility list.

According to the information received from the many Sergeants contacted, there were nine areas of knowledge that were important to the performance of their jobs. The test will therefore consist of 116 multiple-choice items in the following areas:

Subject Area	No. of Questions	Percent of Multiple-Choice Questions
Patrol/Handling Calls	12	10%
Traffic	13	11%
Firearms/Armed Encounters	11	10%
First Aid	8	7%
Investigation	14	12%
Criminal Law/Criminal Procedure	24	21%
Court Testimony	5	4%
Public Relations	4	3%
Supervision/Training	25	22%
TOTALS	116	100%

The last portion of the test will consist of a group of six situations that were developed and evaluated by incumbent Police Sergeants statewide. The situations were designed by the Sergeants to simulate supervisory problems actually encountered on the job. As these questions are longer than normal multiple-choice items, they will be assigned a weight of two points each. (A complete description of this portion of the test may be found in the next section of this Study Guide.)

The scores for this test will be computed as follows:

Section	No. of Questions	No. of Points Each	Total Points	Percent of Exam
Multiple Choice Questions	116	1	116	91%
Supervisory Situations	6	2	12	9%
Totals	122	---	128	100%

DESCRIPTION OF TEST

Patrol/Handling Calls - This section includes questions on arrest, stop and frisk, building searches, field interrogations/interviews, booking procedures, common narcotics, handling of juveniles, and handling of various types of police calls.

Traffic - This section includes questions on state motor vehicle traffic laws and traffic accident investigation.

Firearms/Armed Encounters - This section includes questions on the knowledge of firearms (handgun and shotgun), cover awareness, and armed encounters requiring the use of instinct shooting techniques.

First Aid - Questions in this section deal with emergency medical situations that peace officers may encounter in the performance of their duties (acute medical conditions or accidents).

Investigation - Questions in this section deal with basic knowledge of investigation techniques, including preservation of evidence, interrogations, interviews, confessions, investigation reports, basic NCIC information, warrants, and search and seizure.

Criminal Law/Procedures - The majority of questions in this section provide a criminal situation and ask the candidate to select the appropriate charge. Also included are questions on police procedures found in the Louisiana Code of Criminal Procedure.

Court Testimony - Questions in this section deal with preparation for court and actual court testimony (from a personal, as well as a supervisor's point of view).

Public Relations - The questions in this section deal with the importance of maintaining favorable relations with the public.

Supervision/Training - Questions in this section deal with the principles of supervision needed in this important first level of supervision. Topics covered include delegation, communication, relationships with subordinates, motivation, criticism, counseling employees, morale, and general information on employee training from a Sergeant's viewpoint.

Supervisory Situations/Problem Solving - Questions in this section consist of situations that are similar to supervisory problems actually encountered by Police Sergeants. Each situation illustrates one or more principles of supervision that must be known by a newly-promoted Police Sergeant. For each situation there are several solutions to choose from. There is only one "best" solution, while there may be one or more "acceptable" solutions, and one or more "poor" solutions. You must draw upon your knowledge of the principles of supervision in selecting the "best" solution to the problem. You will receive full credit (2pts.) for all "best" solutions, partial credit (1 pt.) for acceptable solutions, and no credit (0 points) for each poor solution.

HELPFUL STUDY HINTS

The books listed above may be obtained through special orders through bookstores or possibly from your local library. In addition to these references, any authoritative text which covers the applicable subjects may be helpful in preparing for the exam. You might want to plan your study time so that you are able to concentrate on those areas mentioned that you are least familiar with. Also keep in mind the number of questions (or weighting) of each subject area.

The local civil service board should make this study guide available to all applicants in whatever manner the board deems appropriate.

While there are no provisions requiring this office to provide study guides for any competitive or promotional examinations, such material will be provided as a service to assist applicants in preparing for an examination. The State Examiner's office has no control whatsoever over the local availability of reference material (mentioned in the study guides), nor do we feel constrained to limit examination questions to only that material which is available locally. Examination content, weighting of subject areas, and length of examination, may vary with each administration of an examination to reflect any updated job analysis information. Percentages and numerical estimations are provided as approximations.
